1 This society notes:

- The weekly event currently known as "Friday Night Gaming" (FNG) does not start at night some weeks, instead starting at other times such as "Day" and "Astronomical Twilight" following the definitions of parts of the day (<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Day>).
- The weekly event currently known as "Friday Run Club" isn't specific enough about when it starts. It should follow a similar naming convention to what is described above, so members can accurately determine if they are 夜に駆けける.
- The event commonly known as "LAN" (and recently "BFSL") has sub-events that run at various times of day, from Friday to Sunday. The Friday events should be advertised according to the time of day, categorising the Friday schedule into parts of the day.
- The society should be more inclusive by recognising when Friday events fall on holidays or days of awareness. The events should be named accordingly, while still communicating the time of day they occur in.

2 This society believes:

- UWCS must not spread misinformation on the internet, or in real life, about event timing.
- UWCS must take responsibility for recognising important days that Friday events fall on.
- UWCS must ensure health and safety of Friday event attendees by effectively communicating the amount of sunlight they will be exposed to, so members can prepare sufficient PPE. This provision makes UWCS Friday events more inclusive through improving vampire accessibility.

- UWCS is correctly informed that the sun ceases to exist during other days of the week, hence does not require such attention to detail beyond Friday.

3 This society resolves:

- Depending on the start time, the event currently known as "Friday Night Gaming" should be advertised as follows.:
  - "FriDAY Gaming" (FDG) if it starts during the day.
  - "Friday Civil Twilight Gaming" (FCTG) if it starts during civil twilight.
  - "Friday Nautical Twilight Gaming" (FNTG) if it starts during nautical twilight.
  - "Friday Astronomical Twilight Gaming" (FATG) if it starts during astronomical twilight.
  - "Friday Night Gaming" (FNG) if it starts during the night.
- Depending on the start time, the event currently known as "Friday Run Club" should be advertised as:
  - "FriDAY Run Club" (FDR Club) if it starts during the day.
  - "Friday Civil Running Twilight Club" (FCRT Club) if it starts during civil twilight.

- “Friday Nautical Running Twilight Club” (FNRT Club) if it starts during nautical twilight.
- “Friday Astronomical Running Twilight Club” (FART Club) if it starts during astronomical twilight.
- “Friday Night Run Club” (FNR Club) if it starts during the night.

- All other Friday events should follow a similar naming scheme to the events described above.
- Depending on the time of year, various Friday events should be renamed to bring awareness to holidays such as:
  - The event currently known as “Friday Night Gaming” during June should be advertised with respect to pride month, for example “Friday Acetronomical Bi-light Gayming”
  - The event currently known as “Friday Run Club” occurring on Friday 27th February 2026 should be advertised with observance to International Polar Bear Day, for example as “Freezing Night Run Club” which may also provide helpful weather information for the cold winter night.
- All exec members tasked with running Friday events, as well as inclusivity and welfare officers, must take upon themselves the responsibilities of a Friday officer, which are as follows:
  - Friday Inclusivity officers must check for important Fridays, and inform those responsible for running Friday events that they should bring awareness to it.
  - Friday Welfare officers must check the time of day, and if necessary spend society funds to provide PPE such as sunscreen, sunglasses or shelter.
  - General Friday officers (any exec leading a Friday event) must, if informed by Friday Inclusivity, come up with a name for their event that follows the guidelines described above.
  - General Friday officers must also provide adequate gear for members of the society, depending on the important event running. For example, during “Freezing Night Run Club”, providing members with polar bear hats to celebrate and respect International Polar Bear Day.
