Milk Mondays Motion

This Society Notes:

- Milk Mondays was an event previously ran by UWCS, where every Monday morning at least one member of the executive team would stand in the Department of Computer Science for a few hours with Milk (dairy and non-dairy alternatives) that members could drink for free to increase their calcium intake
- Milk Mondays stopped during the 2023/2024 academic year, due to being a pain for the executive team to run and potential low turnout
- There have been requests from current first years to bring back Milk Mondays, an experience they are yet to have

This Society Believes:

- If demand is high enough, and if the budget allows for it, there should be no reason not to run it other than it being a pain for the executive team
- Having a designated Milk Mondays Officer would alleviate this issue, as it would be their sole responsibility for the society

This Society Resolves:

- To elect a Milk Mondays Officer just before the start of each term (replacing the previous Milk Mondays Officer), who will oversee the Milk Mondays event for the duration of that term
- For the election of a Milk Mondays Officer, each candidate must share their timetable for the whole term, and must only be allowed to run in the case Milk Mondays does not clash with their timetable
- To prevent low turnout, Milk Mondays must only go ahead if the Discord event for Milk Mondays for that week has reached at least n participants (where n is a number decided on by the Milk Mondays Officer and other members of the executive team)
    - If, despite the Discord event indicating there being at least n participants, less than n participants show up, Milk Mondays will be cancelled for the following week. This is to prevent people listing themselves as participants for the event (regardless of whether they're going to show up) just to ensure it takes place

- o The Discord event participant count must be checked and the verdict of whether Milk Mondays is happening must be announced in enough time (at least before the event starts) such that the Milk Mondays Officer can grab milk from local shops if required
- Amend section 4 of the constitution of the Computing Society to add to the executive committee composition as follows:

Additional Officers

- Milk Mondays Officer
    - o The Milk Mondays Officer should organise and hold Milk Mondays each Monday of the term they are elected for, provided the conditions for holding the event that week have been met
    - o The Milk Mondays Officer should check the Discord event for Milk Mondays in enough time before the event starts (such that they can purchase milk if needed), and if the participant count reaches a decided threshold (determined by the Society's Officers), they must announce the event is to go ahead, otherwise they must announce the event is cancelled
        - In the event Milk Mondays goes ahead but the actual turnout is less than the decided threshold, Milk Mondays must be cancelled for the following week, regardless of the participant count or potential turnout for the following week
    - o This office will be elected before the start of each term of the academic year, and each candidate running for election must provide their timetables and only be allowed to run in the case Milk Mondays does not clash with their timetable
