1 This Society Notes:

- It has been observed over time that the workload expected of the President of the Society has increased dramatically, in line with the Society's ever-increasing scope.
- However, it has also been noted that the introduction of additional Presidential seats has the potential to weaken the authority of the Presidency, by adding additional scope conflict to arise between Presidents.

2 This Society Believes:

- The reintroduction of the role of Vice President provides an opportunity to share the burdens of Presidency, while still allowing our members to choose a singular leading voice.
- However, given the existence of joint candidacy, introducing a Vice President with no further changes creates the opportunity for effectively 4 Presidents – exacerbating the problem.

3 This Society Resolves:

- If, and only if, the motion to remove shared office also passes, to make the below deletions and additions to the constitution:

- Deletions

  4.3.2 President / Chair / Club Captain / Lord/Lady/Liege/etc Chancellor of the Computers

  4.3.2.a The President should organise and oversee the running of The Society.

  4.3.2.b The President should chair committee meetings.

  4.3.2.c The President should produce an annual report.

  ~~4.3.2.d The Executive Committee should appoint a standing President to oversee the President's duties in the event of extended absence or resignation of the President. This position will only be held for a maximum of 10 weeks, until the next Extraordinary or Annual General Meeting.~~
